

The podcast cover features a central portrait of Steve Pearce, a man with short grey hair, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and red tie. The background is a light grey with a white audio waveform. Overlaid on the left side of the portrait is a red box with the text "With: Steve Pearce" in white. Below this, another red box contains the text "Tune in weekly" in white. At the bottom of the cover is a red and blue horizontal bar. The word "INSIDE" is in white on the red background, and "NM" is in white on the blue background. A silver vintage microphone icon is positioned between "INSIDE" and "NM". Below the bar, the tagline "Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico." is written in a red sans-serif font.

In this week's episode, Steve discusses the tragic shooting of Alamogordo police officer Anthony Ferguson and the chain of recent horrific crimes that have happened due to Gov. MLG's "soft-on-crime all the time policy"; New Mexico is hot, but the governor's Energy Transition Act is setting our state up for rolling blackouts leaving New Mexicans without electricity in the heat. Host Derek Underhill shares his latest experience with an outage at his home.

Senator Martin Heinrich hypocritically spends campaign dollars to secure his own home, NM Rep Stansbury votes against funding the military, an over-the-counter abortion pill is approved, cocaine is found at the White House, and the FBI stops their investigation, Biden might be leading us into WW3—Tune in to hear it all and more!
