

This is a fast-paced episode starting with Derek and Steve bringing up a NM Democrat who agrees their own policies don't work, how another Dem governor has rescinded his order to mandate his state make electric vehicle purchases, the million dollars given to the NM Dem Attorney General three years ago to help find missing Indigenous people that has yet to be spent and how the price of fast food is hurting Biden despite his claims the economy is doing great.

You won't want to miss what's next! Former Republican National Hispanic Assembly Chairman Ronnie Lucero joins the show to share his insider perspective as a car dealer on the disastrous new rule to force electric vehicles onto New Mexicans.

Finally, Steve reveals more insight into RPNM's redistricting lawsuit and the latest ruling and then he gives a fresh update on RPNM's lawsuit to hold the governor and NM Secretary of Health accountable. Tune in to hear it all and more!
